Training courses and awareness

Linked image:
Vocational training for architects Grenoble School of Architecture/Isère Architecture Centre: Transmettre l'Architecture

What types of training courses?

Training courses
Training courses, whether for architects, teachers or the duo, propose theoretical presentations, workshops and experience exchanges.

Round tables, conferences
Member organizations invite professionals to exchange and to debate the notions of architecture, methods to transmit or teaching aids at round tables or conferences that assemble architects and teachers.

Exhibitions
Teachers can also soak up architectural culture by visiting exhibitions mounted by architecture mediation organizations (Architecture Centres, CAUE,...) ...

Visits
Visits (urban walks, contemporary project visits, itineraries within temporary installations,...) are also a good way to acquire notions of architecture and to otherwise discover our urban environment and living spaces.